

NEW FIRM

Having purchased the lumber, coal and paint business of Ruley & Kunkel, and being strangers to the most of the citizens of Oregon and vicinity, we desire to tell you who we are.

We have been operating retail lumber yards in Northwest Missouri for nearly forty years, and for three years we have owned one of the lumber yards at Mound City. We, therefore, feel that with our experience we should know the wishes of the trade of the people in and around Oregon, and we will endeavor at all times to keep material that will merit your patronage.

Mr. H. Goodspeed, who has been in our employ for more than four years, will be the manager in full charge. We feel that he needs little introduction to you, as he is a native of Holt county, having been raised from early childhood at Mound City, and starting in the lumber business at that point until a few years ago. He is a man who understands the retail lumber business, and a man in whom you, as well as ourselves can always depend.

Call on us and let's get acquainted. We want to meet all of you.

Personal and Otherwise.

—Miss Emma Bragg has returned to Mound City, from Chicago, where she and Mrs. C. E. Munn have passed the winter. Mrs. Munn is expected to return next week. We are sorry to learn that Lieut. Munn has been in a hospital in Germany, from a siege of the flu.

—John Adolph is moving about with one of his eyes bandaged, as if had been in a free-for-all scrap. Saturday evening last, March 22, he was out about his barn doing his chores, and feeling fine, when came in contact with a protruding nail, which caught into the corner of one of his eyes, tearing the lower lid so very badly, that Dr. Kearney had to do the stitching act. John is getting along nicely, but he says that peeper of his is mighty sore.

—Best prairie hay went to $40 per ton; best alfalfa to $38 and best timothy to $36 per ton at Kansas City, Monday, of this week, March 24, 1919. It is unprecedented for prairie hay to sell above alfalfa and timothy. All three grades sold from $9 to $15 a ton higher than a year ago.

—L. A. McGinn's barn was pretty badly damaged by the wind, March 18, and hog sheds were moved around pretty lively for a little while. It blew L. A.'s car out of the shed and turned it around a few times but not being old to the combination of cranking Old Henry, it passed it up.—Eureka items in Maitland Herald.

—Mrs. Wm. Sharp, of Craig, celebrated St. Patrick's Day by having her fingers badly mashed by an electric clothes wringer.

—C. A. Duffy, representing the State Utilities Commission, was here the first of the week, looking over the Interurban railway, with the view of recommending betterments. He came at the request of the company.

—Harold Rostock did the high climbing act the other day, going to the top of the weather vane pole on the court house cupola, got Mr. Eagle, and took him to his shop, and repaired the bird in good shape, and now he points N. E. S. W. County Clerk Kunkel when he asked Harold if he could do the job, he said: "I obey orders." and that's how it happened.

—Dr. Moss R. Noland and wife, of Moberly, came up for a day's visit with his father, F. S. Noland and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Markt. The doctor had a patient to bring to a Kansas City hospital, and being so near their old home, they took advantage of this trip.
